FOREWORD

Many bridges are crossed as we proceed through our school years. These bridges span the time when we are changing from insecure youth to mature adults.

The bridge of scholarship guides us through each phase of our mental development. The desire to learn and think for ourselves is instilled in each student.

Through the bridge that our student organizations afford us, we learn to accept responsibility, to be both a leader and a follower, and to cooperate with others.

Athletic competition teaches both spectators and players a sense of fair play; team members learn to cooperate with others. This bridge of sportsmanship is an important phase of school life.

School work becomes less tedious when we have diversions to free our minds from study. Social living in school provides us with the opportunities to learn to be socially at ease in any situation.

We will remember everyday school life longest, for through it we form lasting friendships.

In this book, we hope to show some of the bridges which prepare us for our future roles as responsible citizens.

THE BRIDGE TO

FRIENDSHIP IS A BRIDGE

Friendship is a bridge that leads
To a garden full of flowers,
Where one may spend enjoyable
And very pleasant hours.

A bridge that leads to happiness,
Companionship and pleasure,
To affection, understanding
And to gladness without measure

I know, for we have Walked this bridge,
And found the many things—
How delightful to experience
The joy that friendship brings!

Language — Basic to

In the English and foreign language department, students not only learn the essentials of grammar, but also the exact shades of meaning of many everyday words. Since two years of foreign language are required by most colleges, Latin, the solid foundation for all foreign languages, is offered for those who are planning a higher education.

Mrs. Batchelor and Mrs. May, Junior High and Freshman English instructors, are discussing the National Teachers' Bulletin which Mrs. Wood, Latin and English XII instructor, is studying. Mrs. Wood is the advisor for both the National Honor Society and the Future Teachers of America. Mrs. Scheuring, who teaches speech and English IX and X, busy taking notes for a write up in the Spoonrift of which she is the advisor. These four teachers are responsible for teaching the students correct English usage.

In the background are listed a story's order of events. Eddie Cleland and Ron Laux are showing Alice Meyer and Linda Haase examples in their workbooks. All these procedures prove helpful when the eighth graders begin writing their first lengthy compositions.

"Latin is the foundation of all foreign languages," says Judy Baker to Keith Jones as they sort the vocabulary flash cards. Jane Pepple ex-

Our Future

Students learn much about mythology and also many English derivatives.

Another important part of our English department is speech which provides training in the proper use of basic English grammar. Participants overcome stage fright, practice proper posture, and use correct diction.

Bob Dowell recites some well-known lines from Shakespeare's poetry. Marilyn Tustison and Kay Calvin are asking, "Is this our Bob?"

Diagramming sentences is only one of the many "firsts" encountered by seventh grade English students. It appears that DeDra Worden and Dave Cook have mastered this phase of the basic English course.

amines one of last year's notebooks which each student is required to prepare.

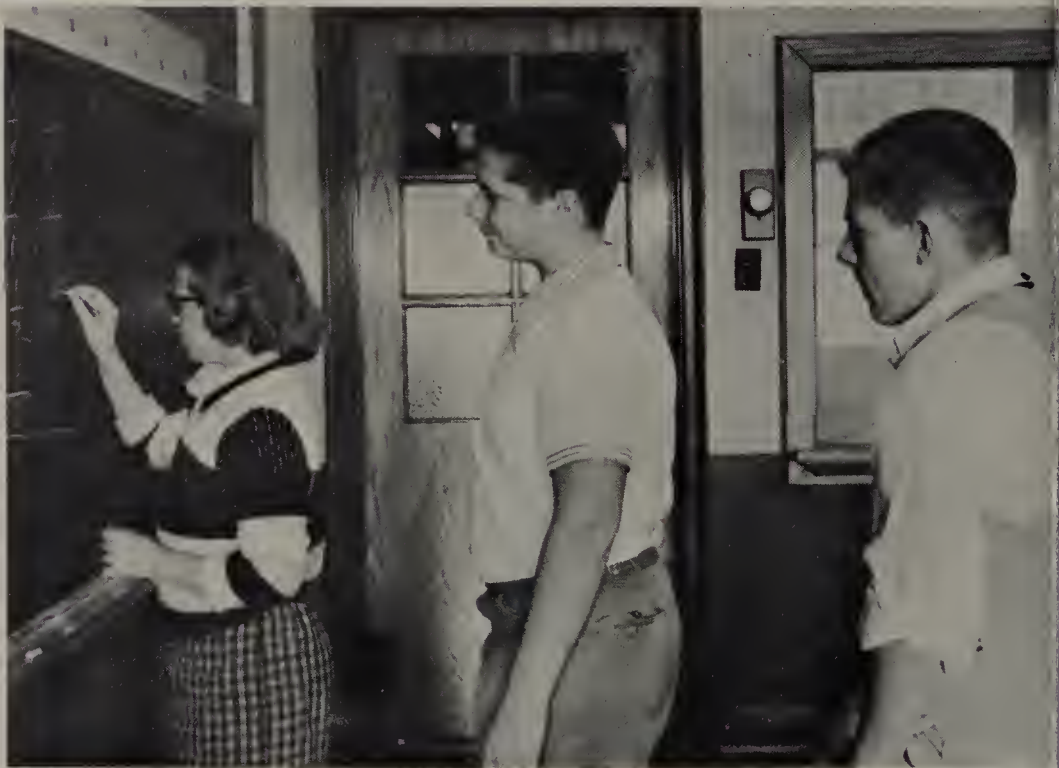

Education Stresses

Today's education places emphasis on the training of young people for further development in the fields of mathematics and science. The majority of colleges require a good foundation in these vital courses, and this knowledge must be acquired in high school. Subjects are also available to meet the students' everyday needs.

Mike Headley explains to Sue Laub and Darlene Slattery the procedure for solving a problem with more than one unknown. Algebra II students learn to master this type of problem with ease.

Sue Bleck exhibits for Jim Massie and Larry Payton the proper way to solve a problem with mixed fractions.

"Here's to education!" says Mr. Beddow, physical education instructor, football coach, and general science teacher. Mr. Row, assistant football coach, grins as he thinks about his next math class. Mr. Murphy, who concentrates on biology and science, is also Senior Class Advisor. Chemistry lab wouldn't be the same without Mr. Wahl. He also teaches the higher math classes which consist of trigonometry and solid geometry. Mr. Fast, coaches the Jr. High basketball team. The subjects he teaches are math, general business, Algebra I, and Algebra II.

Mathematics and Science

Basic math courses such as arithmetic, Algebra I, and geometry prepare the student for everyday living. Advance math courses—Algebra II, solid geometry, and trigonometry—are offered for those who plan to enter college. Everyone is required to study general science and biology. Courses in chemistry and physics are offered for those who plan to further their education.

In laboratory work, basic chemistry is learned by experimenting with chemicals and their reactions with each other. Mary Sindel, Brian Rohrs, and Candy Overmyer proceed with an experiment.

Biology students acquire a general knowledge of the workings of nature. Sally Carr and Jane Beck are examining instruments used by the students in this class. Larry McCurdy points out to Norman Grover the parts of a tree trunk on the plastic model.

Alan Rohrs shows Karl May the various types of terrain in Ohio while Ellen Longworth checks in her book to see if he is right. This is just one of the many interesting studies made in the Ohio History.

An investigation of people, their culture, habits, occupations, and beliefs make up the social study courses. History links our past and present government showing us how the laws change with the changing world.

Loretta Morrison points out to Tom Gordon and Dick Gordon where the History Links Past

Four American Government students take time to read the Constitution in its original form. Sharon Bassett, Duane Blalock, and Dennis Hammond are impressed by the words of our forefathers. Judy Hofner is examining the many signatures at the bottom of this document.

A general understanding and appreciation for humanity is gained by studying social science, thus mistakes of the past can be avoided in the future. Citizen responsibilities are emphasized throughout all courses.

Black Sea is located on a map in geography class.

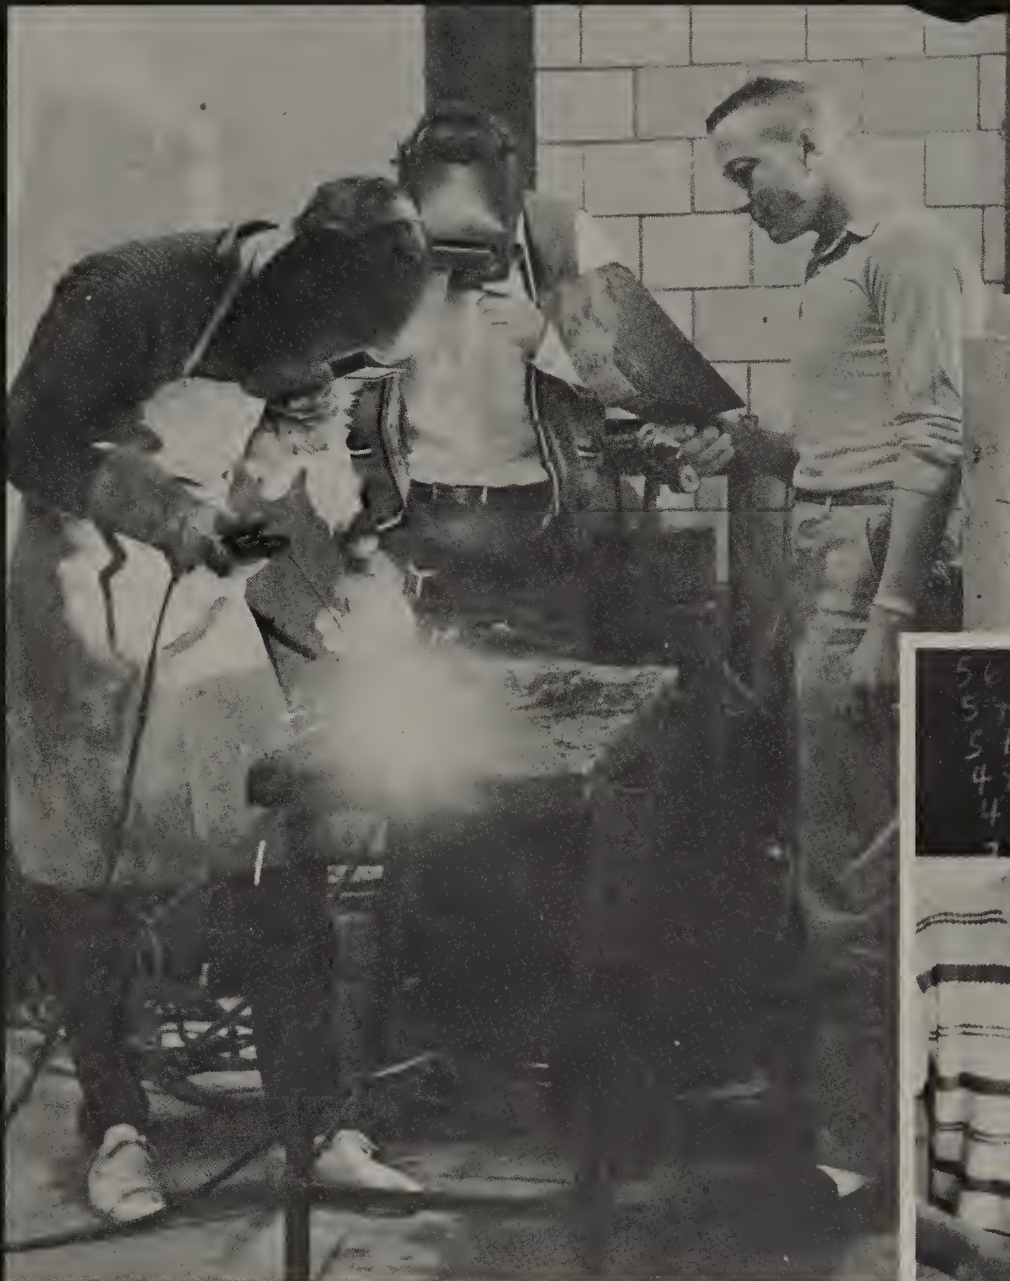

and Present

Mr. Arnett, the newest member of our teaching staff, relaxes a few minutes between classes. After a U. S. History and an American Government class, he needs rest. Mr. Schneider leafs through a current magazine looking for colorful pictures of world events in which his World History group might be interested. Mr. Simpson, along with his basketball duties, teaches drivers' training, personal problems, and geography. He seems to have everything under control now.

Television instruction was used this year for the first time. Airplanes flying at 20,000 feet beam the educational telecasts over channels 72 and 76 to classrooms within a radius of 200 miles. These students are waiting for their class to begin in American History.

Dale Coon and Jim Morhart give instructions to Tim Betts as he welds a broken object in Industrial Arts III class. Welding is just one of the many useful skills learned in this course.

"You must be exact," says Phillip Wonderly to Larry Payton, who is drawing plans for a machine arbor. Howard Blasing is drawing a left-handed acme thread in a right-handed national fine. Mechanical drawing is an important phase of Industrial Arts III.

Students Prepar

Three members of the faculty arrive early to prepare for the day's events. Mrs. Miller, home economics teacher and F.H.A. advisor will get the kitchen in order for her first class. Mrs. Culler, who teaches commercial subjects along with being advisor for Hixonian and F.B.L.A., will be correcting layouts and proofreading write-ups for the yearbook. Mr. Drimmel conducts the industrial arts classes and is also engaged as assistant Jr. High basketball coach.

Jane Cook is sewing on a new garment while Sheron Caperton tries to select a pattern for her sewing project. Cinda Agler and Jackie Bice examine the new styles displayed on the attractive bulletin board. These girls are receiving immeasurable experience that they will use the remainder of their lives.

"Proprietorship is an important 'unknown' in our future," says Sally Scott. Sandy Clark and Barry Haver seem to agree with her. These three students realize that knowing how to keep financial records and handle business transactions will be valuable in later life.

for Vocations

Washing and ironing are two skills which are an essential part of homemaking. Connie Hostetler irons while Elaine Otis folds the clean clothes. Lee Hinsch and Carolyn Neate take another load of wash from the machine.

Appreciation of Art, and Character for Living

Jr. High students, with the capable instruction of Miss Mary Jane Coon, have learned the appreciation and fundamentals of music. Miss Coon strives to impress upon her pupils how important music is and has always been to all peoples of the world. Carol Smitley, Jim Handy, Craig Andrews, and Bill Sabo study about the brass instruments with the capable instruction of Miss Coon.

Mrs. Rosemary McKeen is instructor of physical education, health, civics, and Ohio History. She points out to Mr. Keith Biler, director of the senior band and high school chorus, that the grade book is not funny. He doesn't seem to get the message.

To keep trim and fit, physical education students do exercises. Cindy Osmun and Twyla Snyder are going through an arm warm-up which strengthens arms and gives muscles tone.

John Hofner; Claron Laub, president; Martha Green; Paul Kerr; William Cleland, Sr., vice-president; Bernard Whonsetler, clerk, examine site for new grade school addition.

Board Strives for Better Facilities

School Board members are certainly the "unsung heroes" of the community. These busy people are willing to give their valuable time to promote better educational facilities for the youth of Hicksville. Serving with little compensation, this group holds numerous meetings during which they make vital decisions that affect the entire community.

Actions of the School Board have much effect on the community. Through a great deal of effort, the Junior High will be moved to the elementary building where an addition is to be built. Their present work is concentrated on the passing of another bond levy which will provide additional classrooms, a new cafeteria, and a modern gymnasium.

Administration Handle

Mr. Normand Jones, Superintendent of the Hicksville Schools, is a respected citizen in our community. He worked diligently to promote the school bond issue. With constant effort, he strives to improve our facilities and curriculum. Our superintendent has a good sense of humor, an understanding of students, and a desire to make Hicksville High School a better educational institution. With all these qualities, it is not difficult to understand why he is thought of with high regard.

Occasionally our superintendent takes out a few minutes to practice his golf game. Also, he may be seen snapping candid shots with his camera. During the summer months he finds time to relax and enjoy the out-of-doors; even then, he must make plans for the coming school year because every detail needs his personal attention.

In the office, Mr. Jones is assisted by the capable school secretary, Mrs. Lura Thiel. As on a football field, teamwork is the key to a successful outcome.

Problems Efficiently

Our office is the hub of all school activities. Office responsibilities include keeping all financial records, checking attendance, scheduling athletic events, ordering and handling all films used by teachers, recording grades and informing the community about all school affairs.

Mrs. Thiel is proud of her capable office girls. Since there is so much to do in a school office, student assistants are necessary. They type, file, make duplicate copies of important notices, and check attendance. The office girls receive one-half credit for their services. Working in the office gives the girls actual secretarial practice which proves to be valuable to them in seeking a job after graduation.

Delores Osmun, Janet Massie, Linda Hilbert, Phyllis Sweeney, Shirley Little, Mrs. Lura Thiel (school secretary), Barbara Arnold, and Sharon Tustison form this year's efficient office staff.

... Behind the Scenes

Custodian Alvin Beardsley samples some of the delicious food that the cooks, Pauline Haver, Virginia Surque, Jean Bergman, and Mable Beams are preparing at the elementary school. Not pictured, Roy Bauer and Russel Meyer, along with Alvin Beardsley, always have ready smiles for students. When there is something to be repaired, our able custodians are "on of the job."

Good meals promote good thinking. The well-balanced diet that our cooks offer is enjoyed by many of the students each noon. Jovial Claudine Burlingame and Leona Hostetler brighten the faces of students and teachers alike.

Our bus drivers have a serious responsibility each day of the school year—keeping their buses in good condition and transporting the students safely.

Highlights of every school year are the festive occasions that help to break the monotony of daily routine. Homecoming is first with the floats and royal court. All students participate in creating team spirit by cheering the various athletic teams on to victory. Coronation ranks highest in students' minds for it is filled with colorful scenery, lights, dancing, singing, and the awarding of honors to the court. The year is rounded out by special programs presented by the music department, class plays, and the Jr. Sr. Prom. The year is ended with the seniors' bidding farewell at commencement. Thus, the year is packed with many activities to provide happy memories for years to come.

Bobbette makes her appearance in the style show. Frieda admires her as Squint makes the beautiful girls "beautifuler."

November 10 and 11 the senior class presented "The Magic Touch"—a play about a family as average as yours. Bobbette was a dyed-in-the-wool tomboy with her own gang of "fellas." Mrs. Braddock aspired to join a social club, and Mr. Braddock embarrassed her by spreading laundry all over the living room just as the committee arrived. Frieda Fisher moved in on the gang and Bobbette ran away.

It all ended happily when Bobbette was discovered in the style show, modeling an evening gown.

The Senior

Mrs. Washington, who belongs to Local 77, pitches in to make the "elite" more comfortable. "You all, just look at these psychology books Mr. Braddock has."

The "dirty dozen" gang spread out their treasures as the Better Culture Club Committee arrives to find the living room in a mess.

Class Presents —

"Now, Robert! Put that gun away. You should start worrying about our daughter."

"Willie, you're not in the style show. Take the ice cream into the kitchen. It's for the style show guests."

Junior Class Play — — —

April 6 and 7 the juniors presented "Seventeenth Summer," a summer filled with many events for Angie Morrow. The play consisted of romance and everyday occurrences; also, comedy which was provided by ten-year old Kitty. The gang celebrates the 4th of July with a picnic and a parade. The play ended on a sad tone as Angie went off to college leaving her friends behind.

The Morrow family are spending an afternoon together, until Angie breaks the spell and leads Kitty into a fit of hysteria.

"Well, let's get started for the Country Club. Everyone will be there before us."

SENIOR EXTRAVAGANZA

Macy's Department Store in New York, with its changing window displays, was the scene of this year's Coronation. Seniors took part in the Easter Parade, a June wedding, dance of the leprechauns, and even a Paris designer was featured. Representative scenes were from all four seasons of the year.

Afterwards the royal couple, Barbara Arnold and Patrick Slattery, reigned over the royal court.

Refreshments were served by Senior parents and everyone danced to the music of the Hi-Fi.

The Months

JANUARY—As the old year goes out with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," the new comes in with the cheerful verses of "Sleigh Ride."

MARCH—Leprechauns build a pyramid.

Dick Gordon imitates Shelley Berman on the telephone.

FEBRUARY—After the heart dancers make their grand entrance, they frolic to the familiar restrains of "Heart of My Heart."

at Macy's

APRIL - MAY—While the Seniors dance to “Easter Parade,” the April Showers bring May flowers.

JUNE—The June bugs shine on the lovely bride and her groom in their interpretative dance.

All Margie Handy wants for Christmas is her two front teeth.

JULY—Poise and precision are shown in the graceful eighteenth century minuet.

Visited by Goblins

AUGUST—Pickle contestant, Janet Massie, enters her prize-winner in the local county fair, judged by Delores Osmun.

SEPTEMBER—Paris dress designer, Dennis Hammond, works with a masterpiece on a live model, Lucille Blasing.

Beverly Hart and Leona Morris sing a Negro spiritual, "He's Got the Whole World In His Hands."

OCTOBER—Villains, witches, and devils make this scene weird and uncanny.

and Pilgrims

NOVEMBER—From whom we get our heritage—Pilgrims and Indians seem content in their meager existence as they sing “Bless This House.”

DECEMBER—Santa Claus and the children watch in amazement as the baby doll and the toy wooden soldier come to life to dance the “March of the Wooden Soldier.”

Mary Doeden and Joyce Anderson welcome Steve Middleton to "Island of Love," with a lei and a smile in true Hawaiian fashion.

Saturday, May 12, the annual Junior-Senior Prom was presented by the class of 1963 to honor the class of 1962.

An exotic theme, "Island of Love," was portrayed through Hawaiian music, hula dancers, and authentic scenery.

The guest speakers were direct from the Hawaiian Islands. They played the Ukulele and presented songs of the islands.

At the Post-Prom the movie "April Love" was shown. Door prizes were given at the record hop after the movie. After an evening of fun and frolic, a light breakfast was served at the Methodist Church.

Our Dream Comes True — — —

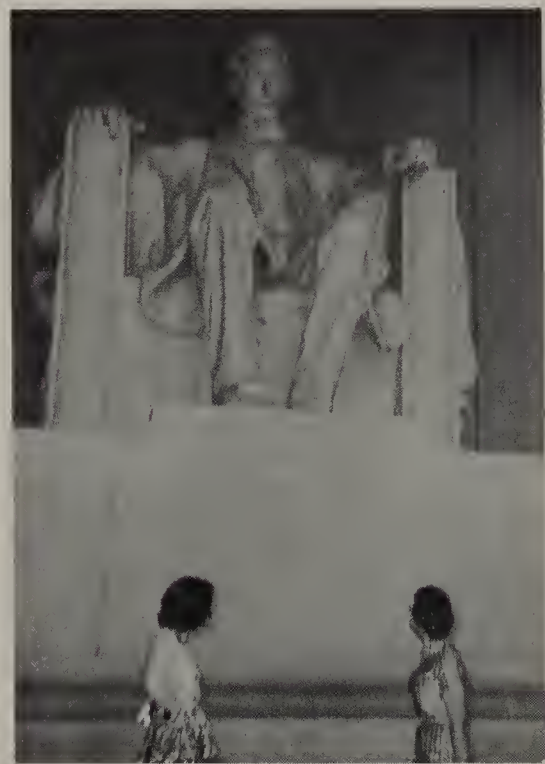

The Seniors pause for a moment after an informative tour of the Capitol Building.

Ask any senior how high the Washington Monument is, and he will probably moan that it is 898 steps too many. This monument is one of the outstanding memories of the last annual senior class trip.

Everyone will always remember the awe-inspiring Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the impressive Iwo Jima Memorial, the authentic-looking figures in the Wax Museum, and the solemn changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Tours of the White House, Capitol Building, Smithsonian Institute, Mount Vernon, and Annapolis were not only enjoyable, but highly educational.

The Class of 1962 has memories that it will cherish forever of those last days together.

Sharon Rice and Jean Miller gaze up at the massive statue of Abraham Lincoln in the Lincoln Memorial.

Kay Calvin, Lucille Blasing, and Sandy Clark marvel at the size of the largest elephant ever to be captured. This was displayed in the Museum of Natural History.

MR. AND MISS H.H.S.

Janet Massie and Richard Gordon were chosen by the senior class, to represent them at the Hixonian Dance as Mr. and Miss H. H. S. on February 2. This is the final year for the tax stamp contest and the seniors worked hard to win. The freshman class chose Judy Peters and Ronnie Laux as attendants since they were runner up. Third place winners, the sophomore class, chose Susan Laub and Keith Jones as their representatives.

Extra-curricular activities represent many busy hours of enthusiastic work by students. All clubs have at least one organized project each of which functions in many and varied ways. In each case students learn to express themselves and gain needed self-confidence while enriching their school experience.

Individual skills, responsibility, and initiative are promoted through these various organizations. Thus, our students are learning to cross the bridge of life by actual experience while still in school.

Following the banquet, Bobbie Cook is about to be installed as State Reporter at the State Convention in Columbus.

Future Business Leaders of America is a nationally accredited organization under the auspices of the National Education Association. It consists of three divisions which include the National Chapter, State Chapters, and many local chapters.

The annual F.B.L.A. Convention was held this year at Columbus. Bobbie Cook ran for State Reporter and received the honor of being elected. The Hicksville club was second in mileage and attendance. The spelling team, which ranked sixth, consisted of Sharon Tustison, Judy Ringer, and Donna Husted.

Included on this year's agenda were a panel discussion by former graduates, a talk by a businessman of the community, and the explanation of the Kelly Girl Services by Ruth Meyers, a graduate of Miami University with a business major.

Eventually Teachers

OFFICERS: Gary Meek, treasurer; Margie Handy, president; Judy Hofner, secretary; Candy Overmeyer, vice-president. The officers are looking over past records which will help them plan future meetings and activities.

With the purpose of investigating the advantages of a teaching career and preparing others for college, the Future Teachers of America is an active club in Hicksville High School. This organization is exceedingly helpful to those speculating on the aspects of being a teacher. The Junior and Senior students are given opportunities to observe classes at the elementary school which will help them to decide their futures.

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Wood, the club advisor, the F.T.A. will flourish at Hicksville High School.

Students to Homemakers

It's refreshment time and seniors—Lucille Blasing, Jerisue Norton, and Janet West—are busy preparing snacks for one of their monthly meetings.

Hicksville Future Homemakers of America is an organization which has several worth-while purposes—to prepare homemakers of tomorrow and further interest in home economics.

Various activities sponsored by the club are luncheons, dances, and conventions.

The officers of FHA are Nancy Howard, President; Jerisue Norton, Vice-President; Gloria Blasing, Secretary; Beverly Hart, Treasurer; Advisor, Mrs. Miller.

G.A.A. Develops Sportsmanship

G.A.A. officers, Alice May, Dianne Miller, Judy Baker, and Candy Byers, adjust the volleyball net.

Girls' Athletic Association is an all girls' club which helps to develop sportsmanship, athletic ability, and friendship. Under the advisor, Mrs. McKeen, the club has had a successful and prosperous year. G.A.A. has sponsored record hops and bake sales to earn money to pay for the trophies and letters which are given as awards to the active members of the club. Dues are always charged to help pay for these awards also.

Besides sponsoring these activities to raise money, G.A.A. has participated in many sports including basketball and volleyball. The team was able to maintain an honorable record in both sports. In basketball the Varsity team broke even with a 3-3 record while the Reserve team ended the season with a 3-1 record. Both the A-Squad and B-Squad held a 2-2 record for the volleyball season.

COUNCIL MAKES SUGGESTIONS

SEATED: Donna Husted, Jill Scott, Lucille Blasing, Beth Ewing, Mr. Ringer.
STANDING: Dallas Dewey, John Ewing, Diana Katona, Jim Handy, Dave Kirby, Bob West, Keith Jones, Sharon Doeden.

The Student Council has as its purpose to encourage student participation in school affairs, to practice the ideals and techniques of democracy, and to foster a spirit of co-operation between students and faculty. Each class chooses one boy and one girl to represent them at each monthly meeting.

Among the improvements and suggestions made by the student council are the manner of selecting the Homecoming Queen and cheerleaders and also the making of the rules for the betterment of the school. Among the highlights of the year's activities were the sponsoring of two record hops. Half of the proceeds from these dances went to the Citizens Committee to assist its goal of better schools.

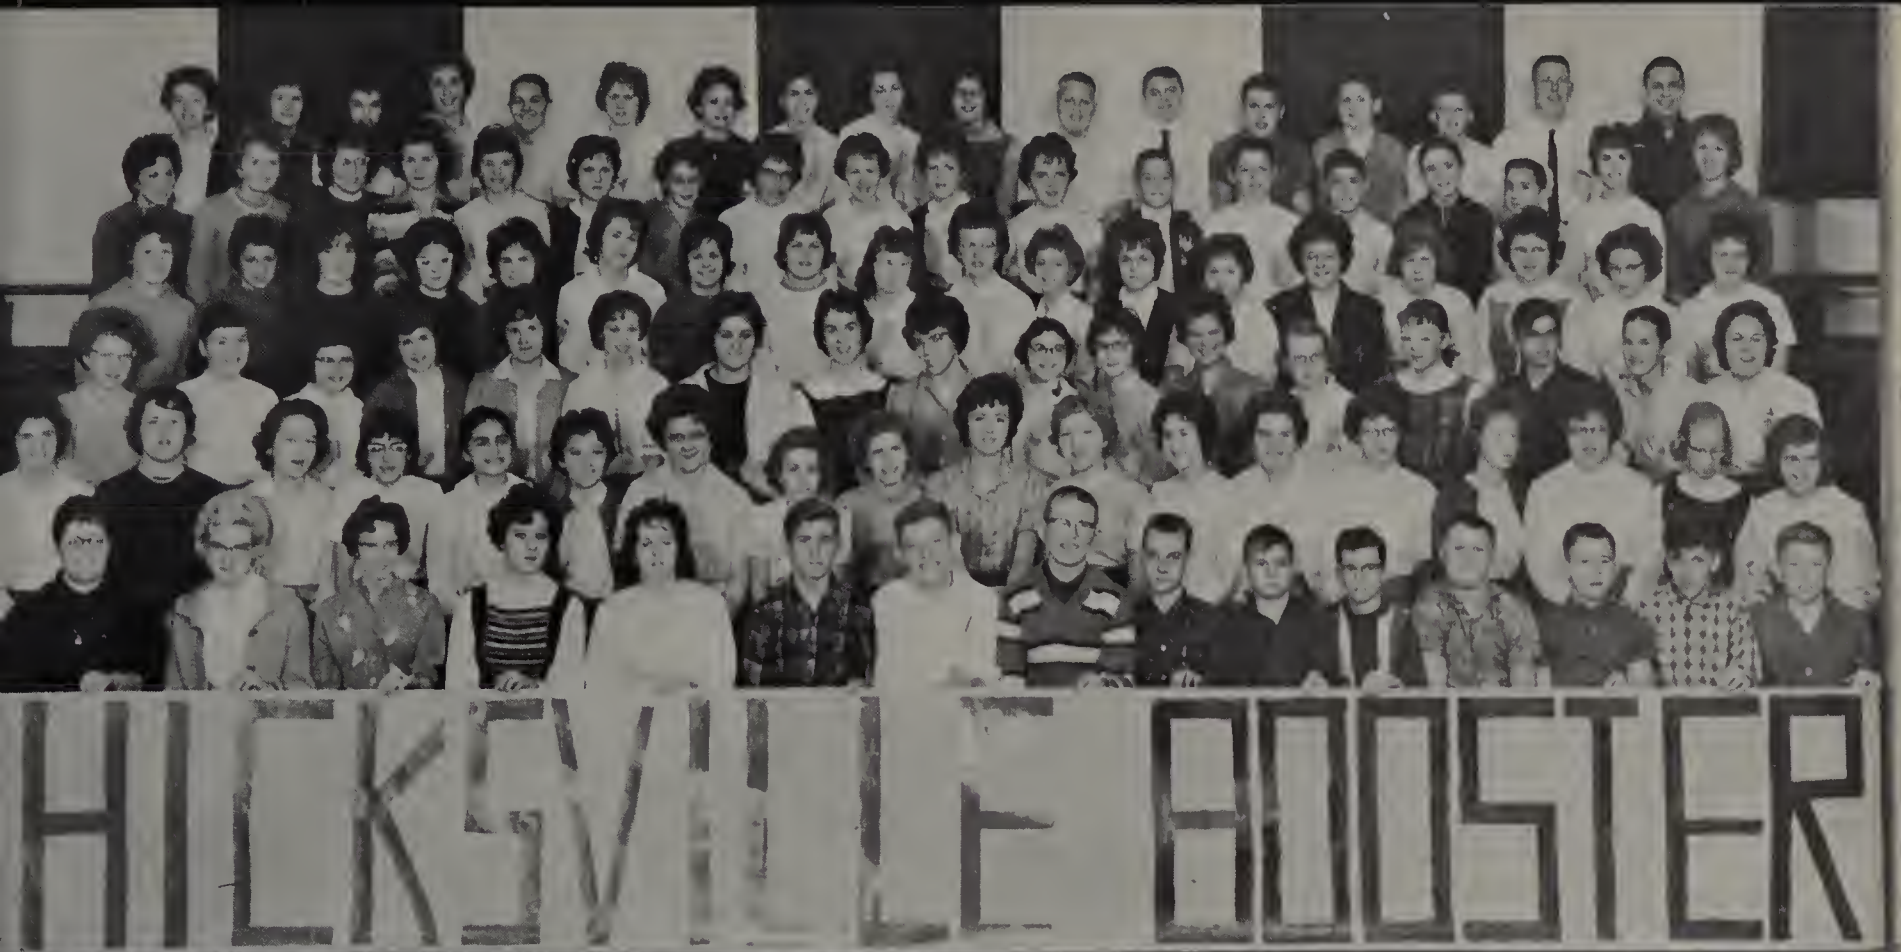

LIBRARIANS LEARN METHODS

Librarians form a type of club which is purely a service club with no dues or officers. It is composed of students with a willingness to work and to keep the spirit of HHS high. The purpose of the club is to offer explanatory work in the field of library science to those interested in helping the library to function efficiently, and to be of service to the students and teachers.

Students receive one half credit for their services. Mrs. Wood is the advisor and head of the school library.

Booster Block

Booster Club and Yell Club combined this year to form the Booster Block. The members loyally supported the team by attending each game and yelling the cheers led by the cheerleaders. To give color to the yell section, each member wore either a red or white blouse or shirt. Shakers were used, also.

To help raise money, the Booster Block sponsored many record hops following the basketball and football games. Dues were also charged to put money in the treasury.

The officers of the Booster block are: Gary Meek, president; Sharon Bassett, vice-president; Keith Jones, treasurer; and Gloria Blasing, secretary. The advisors are Mrs. McKeen and Mr. Schneider.

Juniors Publish Paper

Advisor, Mrs. Scheuring; Co-editors, Brian Rohrs and Candi Overmeyer.

Each year the Junior Class is responsible for publishing the Spoodrift. This year the Spoodrift Staff worked very hard to publish a school paper of fine quality. Co-editors Candi Overmeyer and Brian Rohrs, with the assistance of Mrs. Scheuring, the advisor, directed the publication and operation of the Spoodrift smoothly and efficiently. The students of H.H.S. are very grateful for the services which the members of the Spoodrift Staff rendered to them by giving them a fine school paper.

National Honor Society

Since 1958, the Hicksville Chapter of the National Honor Society has been a select and respected group. Members are chosen by the faculty on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, service, and the unmentioned quality, humility.

To be eligible, a student must have a 3.5 average and must maintain this average until he is elected to permanent membership. At the end of the senior year, permanent members receive the coveted keystone pin at a very impressive ceremony.

Van Wert was the setting for the annual dinner which is the highlight of the year. After a delicious meal, the group conducted a short business meeting at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Wood.

With the standards of scholarship and personality that the National Honor Society holds up for its members, this group will certainly become more important and influential.

Mr. Harold Ringer, principal, administers the National Honor Society pledge to the members at the annual induction ceremony.

Direction Equal Good Music

Senior High Chorus consisted of forty members this year. Of these forty members, only two were seniors. This musical group is one to be watched. Even though the judges at district contest felt the chorus lacked enough confidence, they agreed that its performance was excellent, giving it a II rating.

Since the chorus had only two scheduled practices a week, it can be easily understood that every minute was put to good use. Besides district contest, the chorus also performed for the annual Christmas Song Festival, the P. T. A., and baccalaureate. The music the chorus provided was quite enjoyable, and Mr. Biler was proud of his fine singers.

Mr. Biler efficiently directed the chorus.

Mr. Biler gives helpful suggestions to improve their singing to Rickie Pierman, Donna Husted, and Sharon Tustison.

Musicians Earn

Mr. Biler directs the band with his whole "heart and soul."

The Hicksville High School Band marched at all home games performing precision drills and exciting pagentries. They traveled to Holgate for a parade, to the Auburn Fair, and also led Santa Claus in the traditional Christmas parade. Receiving wide acceptance wherever they went, this musical organization should be commended for its fine accomplishments.

The concert band participated in the District Band Contest held at Bowling Green State University. They received a I rating, which is superior. This entitled the band to go to the State Band Contest at Ohio Northern University in Ada. There they received a II rating which is an excellent. The greatest part of these honors should go to Mr. Biler who worked diligently to promote better musicianship.

Superior Award

The annual Music Awards Banquet was held May 2. The Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Beddow. Pins, letters, and certificates were given for different years' service in the band. Six-year trophies were given to Sharon Tustison and Sandy Clark. The John Phillip Sousa award was presented to Sharon Tustison. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

The year's program ended with a tribute to the seniors at Commencement.

The Executive Committee is made up of two seniors: Sharon Tustison and Janet Massie; two juniors: Rickie Pierman and Brian Rohrs; one sophomore: Susan Laub; one freshman: Gary Wonderly; one junior high representative: Sandra Bergman.

THIRD ROW: Mary Davis, Sandra Gloor, Jackie Straley, Bob West, Jerry Conner, Laura Murphy, Diane Brown, Julie Folk, Debbie Gecowetts, Alan Rohrs.

To be eligible for Senior Band, the student must begin in Junior Band. The thirty-four members practice many hours to be accepted.

These young people practice every week after school on Monday so they will eventually be included with the older music-makers.

PEP BAND

An added attraction at the basketball games is the pep band. This miniature band, comprised of fifteen players, is ready and willing to help support the team and to assist in various cheers. They strive to play snappy songs which provide the extra spark and add incentive for the cheering section.

Young Songsters Present Operetta

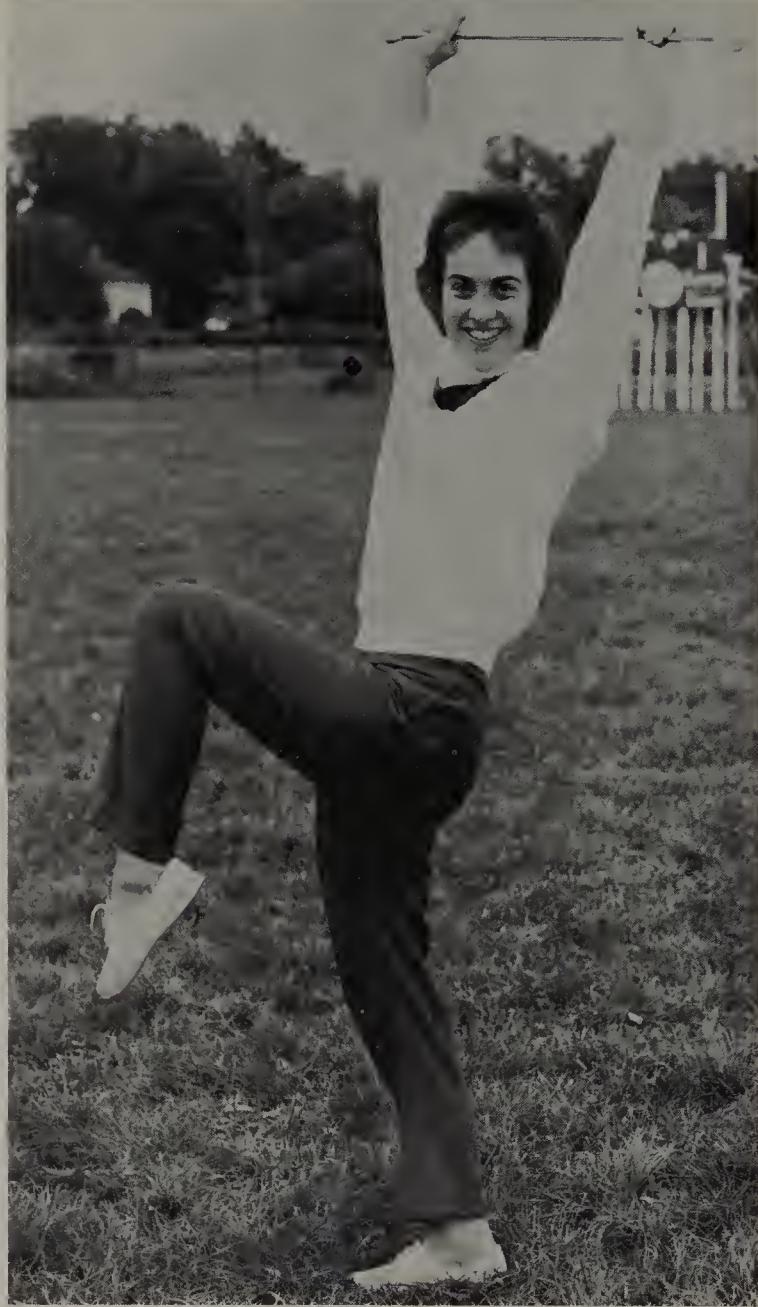

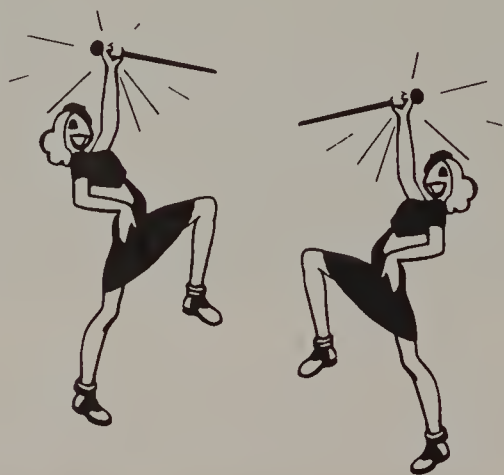

Junior High Solo and Ensemble Contest and the Junior High Minstrel kept Miss Coon's songsters busy throughout the entire year. Miss Coon has made it her aim to teach these young people to appreciate fine music. Their young voices with Miss Coon's instruction make harmonious and pleasant music.

Colorful scenery and spirited music combined to make the Junior High Minstrel outstanding.

SNAPPY STEPPERS

Long hours of practice give the majorette routines a look of precision and high stepping.

Under head majorette, Rickie Pierman, they provided entertainment with their fancy twirling and snappy strutting.

Majorettes, Janet Massie, Sandra Loucks, Nancy Betts, and Sharon Doeden, add much color to the marching band.

Students of high intellect value their spare hours. This time is used to expound upon some of the subjects for which there is not enough time during regular school hours.

A Gifted Student Program was in its experimental stages this year. Many students have shown keen interest in this newly organized group.

It is hoped that the Gifted Student Program, along with the help and encouragement of both teachers and administration, will bring about a real desire of achievement for students with unusual comprehension.

A research project providing a program for the academically gifted students is being sponsored through the offices of the County Superintendent of Paulding County. A research division of the State Department of Education is financing the program.

Horace Everett, director of the program, works out of the Paulding County office; and he spends about half a day a week in the Hicksville School. Derrill Murphy is the teacher-advisor of the project.

Selection of the students for the program was made on the basis of various test results and teacher recommendation. The selection of the projects by the students was based largely on the student's interest and desire for enrichment or self-improvement in some area beyond ordinary classroom work. The projects range from the study of psychology to the construction of a lie detector.

Scholarship Team Competes

Preliminary tests were administered to all students who wished to compete for a position on the scholarship team. Those students receiving the highest scores took the Final District Tests at Defiance College on May 5.

Those representing Hicksville were Mike Silvers, Algebra I; Ruth Sweeney, Algebra II; Wilma Slaughter, World History; Neal Blalock, Chemistry; Lowell Cunningham, Physics; Brian Rohrs, American History; Gary Miller, Biology; Rita Hofmeister, Bookkeeping; Tom Gordon, Senior Social Studies; Jackie Cunningham, Latin I; Judy Baker, Latin II; Judy Peter, English IX; Susan Killian, English X; Judy Ringer, English XI; Kay Cook, English XII.

Eighth Graders Rank High

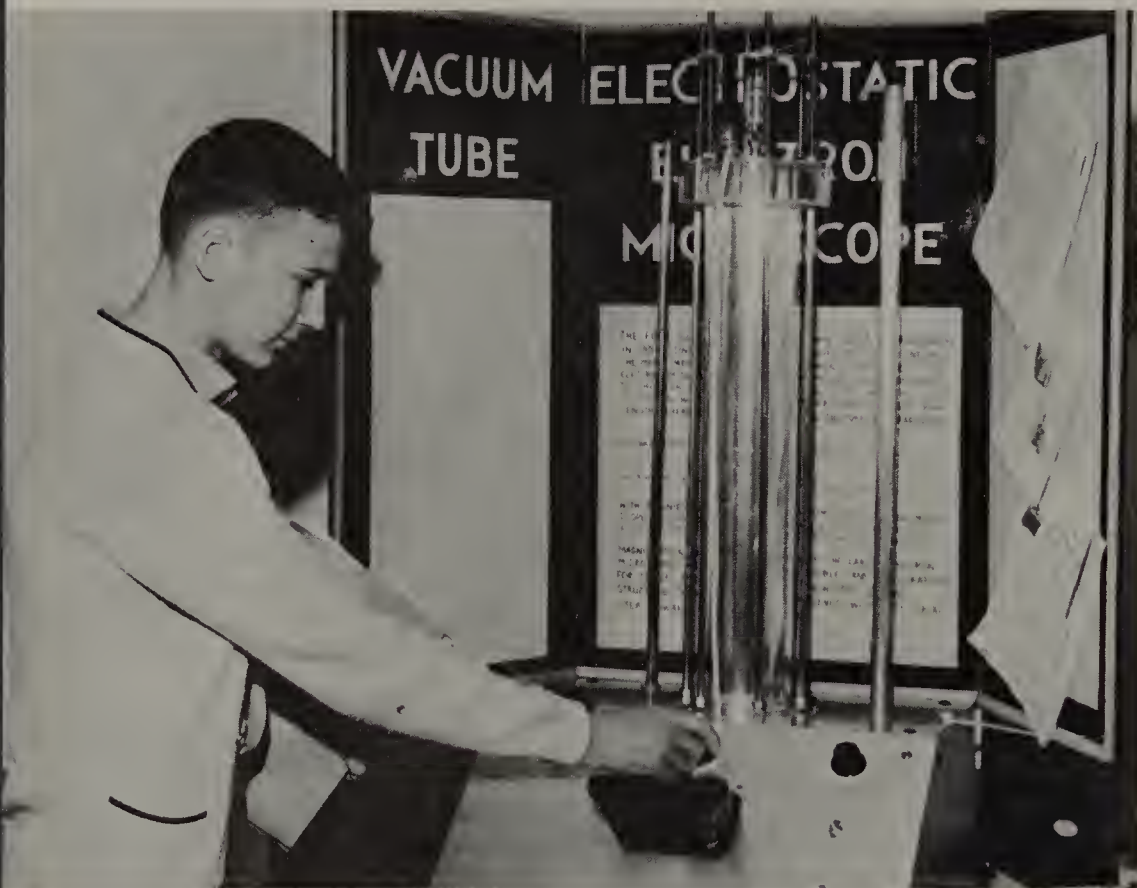

All students in the eighth grade took the Eighth Grade State Test.

Jim Meyer was first in the class, and Craig Andrews was second. The students in the picture were in the upper twenty-five per cent of the class scores.

Unique Projects Displayed at Science Fair

250 entries were judged in the Fifth Annual Science Fair at Hicksville High. This year the projects were exhibited on both Friday and Saturday, making it possible for many to view the displays.

For the third year in a row, Kenny Brush has participated in the State Science Day Exhibit.

This year he constructed an electrostatic electron microscope, consisting of a high voltage electro gun, vacuum tube and control lens to greatly magnify specimens.

He received a superior rating at both the local and district Science Fairs. At the state exhibit, he received an excellent rating.

Jack Laub demonstrated his unique project, Electricity Through The Growth of Bacteria, which brought him a blue ribbon.

An aerodynamic wind tunnel was entered in the Hicksville Science Fair this year by Lowell Cunningham, who received a superior rating on the project.

Honors Won by Students

Judy Ringer spent many hours perfecting her skill before she went to Detroit to participate in the Regional Facit Contest. There she placed sixth which was an outstanding achievement.

Mr. Biler, director of the Hicksville High School Band, and Mrs. Griffith, President of the Music Boosters, were happy to present to Sharon Tustison the John Philip Sousa Band Award for loyal participation and cooperation in the band's activities, as well as outstanding musical ability.

Gene Kemerer, Judy Ringer, Ruth Sweeney, Dianne Miller, and Mary Sindel were chosen by their teachers and the American Legion Auxiliary to attend Girls' State at Capitol University in Columbus, Ohio this summer. Judy and Ruth are the delegates while the other three are alternates.

Mike Kenner, Brian Rohrs, and Neal Blalock were chosen to attend Boys' State at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio. Gene Cottrell is the alternate.

Students Receive Honors at

Sharon Tustison and Kay Cook were elected members of Quill and Scroll, an International Society for High School Journalists, and were awarded key pins.

Judy Hofner, President of the Senior Class, presented Barry Haver, President of the Junior Class, the Hicksville High School shield which lists the ideals a senior class should live up to.

Kay Cook was pleasantly surprised to accept the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science Award as evidence of superior scientific aptitude.

Gary Meek, captain, received the Intramural Basketball plaque for the victorious Senior class.

Senior and Awards Assembly

"Studying pays off," says Judy Peter. Judy received the Current Science Award as her score was the highest of all those who took the Current Science Test.

Kay Cook received the Daughters of the American Revolution award.

Gordon Coy, Gloria Blasing, and Judy Ringer received medals for having the highest speed and perfect copy in their respective classes in the Facit Typewriting Contest, in a five-minute perfect timing.

Ruth Sweeney, Senior High Spelling Champion, and Judy Peter, Junior High Spelling Champion, have happy smiles on their faces as they look at the trophies they won.

Mrs. Miller congratulates Kay Cook, who won the Betty Crocker Award, while Sharon Bassett awaits the bestowal of the McCall's Fashion Award.

Seniors Take Giant

Another member of the Class of '62 makes the long walk across the stage to receive her diploma while the remainder of the class meditate on those last moments.

"Life is a classroom—a classroom in which we learn all the time." This was the theme of Valedictorian Sharon Tustison's speech.

Seniors anxiously await their cue to begin their long march to the stage where they will receive their much-awaited diplomas, as well as, some good advice from their Commencement speaker, Dr. James Armstrong.

Dr. James Armstrong of the Broadway Methodist Church delivered the Commencement address at the eighty-first annual graduation exercises of Hicksville High School. The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Reverend Luther Norris, pastor of the Church of Christ.

The class of 1962 numbers forty-eight and consists of twenty-seven girls and twenty-one boys. The Valedictorian of the class was Sharon Tustison who spoke on the subject "Are Goodbyes Really Sad?" Sharon earned all A's in her academic subjects during her four years of high school. Salutatorian, Phyllis Sweeney, was unable to attend Baccalaureate or Commencement because of illness.

Step Into the Future

"Graduation begins the education a person acquires during his life." The senior class learned a valuable lesson from Dr. James Armstrong's speech.

Another happy senior received his diploma and congratulations from Mr. Laub, President of the Hicksville School Board.

The seniors placed their tassels on the right, indicating that the class of '62 had graduated.

VALEDICTORIAN

Sharon Tustison is the Valedictorian of the Class of 1962 and has attained an average of 10.6 for the last four years. She has been active in band and chorus and received the John Phillip Sousa Award for her interest in music. As a Junior, she was the co-editor of the school paper and this year is co-editor of the yearbook. She has been a member of the Scholarship Team for two years and has also served as president of the National Honor Society.

SALUTATORIAN

Phyllis Sweeney is the Salutatorian for 1962 and has earned a 10.3 average for her four years. She has been on the Scholarship Team and has been active in the Girls' Athletic Association and Future Teachers of America. This past year she was our senior class secretary, business manager of the yearbook, and served as secretary of the National Honor Society. Phyllis plans to further her education at Purdue Extension.

Through team participation, students receive the warm glow of team spirit, the experience of victory and defeat, and the lessons sportsmanship teaches. To be able to compete, an athlete must train and also sacrifice many activities in which his friends are engaged. Even though a team should always play to win, being a good loser commands respect from everyone—even the opponents.

FOOTBALL 1961

The Varsity made a comeback in the world of football under the guidance of Hicksville's two new coaches, Ralph Beddow and Dick Roe. Although the Aces did not win all their games, there was a great improvement in the playing ability and football spirit.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The success or failure of a team is generally measured from the record of wins and losses. By this the Aces would have a 5-13 season.

Though winning is foremost in everyone's mind, there are certainly other points to consider. No team can wish for a victory by thinking of winning before they go on the floor or by playing the way they did in the game before. In order to win, they must "put out" every minute and only then can they call themselves true athletes.

The Aces had a poor season on paper but to the boys who played they learned many new fundamentals from Coach Simpson. The Aces weren't any giants but they "put out" all the time with a good team spirit.

Dick Gordon and Larry Snyder talk to the referee before the Paulding game.

Cheerleaders' functions at H.H.S. are to lead the spirit of the fans. These girls spend much of their time composing and practicing cheers and promoting good sportsmanship.

Every summer, the varsity attends the Smith-Walbridge Camp. At this camp, where new cheers are taught and there is competition among groups, Hicksville won three first places. They also attended a clinic at Toledo University where they were asked to demonstrate three cheers.

Qualifications for a cheerleader are that you must keep a C-average, be well-groomed, and set a good example for the school.

Jack Strubing hands the baton to Larry Snyder in the 880 yard relay.

Under the coaching of Mr. Howard Schneider, the Aces set many records and also gained much experience for the future years. We salute the boys who made individual records to stand for many years.

Cliff Gorrell placed first in the 880 yard run at the District Track Meet, and he also set a new school record of 2.04.2 seconds. Cliff advanced to the State Meet, but he did not place at that meet.

Larry Snyder set three new records in each of the following events: high hurdles, 16.2 seconds; low hurdles, 15.2 seconds; high jump, 5'6".

BASEBALL — 1962

Coached by Ralph Beddow, the baseball teams found the 1962 season rather rough but exciting. The Varsity won one game of the five played. Coach Beddow was handicapped by inexperience since only four boys returned from last season.

The team consisted of underclassmen and so with more experience, the future looks brighter.

The Junior High ended the season with three victories and no losses. They won the Defiance County Championship.

Education is the quest for knowledge and understanding—it is the one clear call for youth. Our knowledge is broadened through the medium of the classroom. As many learn after graduation, life is a classroom—a classroom in which we learn all the time.

Students of this space age have a great responsibility and with the knowledge that our parents and teachers help us acquire, this world will be a better place in which to live.

The senior officers, Jean Miller, treasurer; Judy Hofner, president; Sharon Bassett, vice-president; Phyllis Sweeney, secretary, take time out from their busy schedules for some recreation on the ice.

A row of seven black and white portraits of young students, likely from the 1950s or 60s, arranged horizontally. The students are of various ethnicities and are all smiling or looking directly at the camera. They are wearing typical clothing of that era, such as collared shirts and sweaters. The portraits are set against a plain, light background.

A row of seven black and white portraits of young children, likely students, smiling and looking towards the camera. The children are of various ethnicities and are dressed in simple clothing. The portraits are arranged horizontally, with each child occupying an equal portion of the row.

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE HICKSVILLE, OHIO

ALUMNI

Many graduates have passed through the doors of H.H.S. to spread far and wide around the world. However the annual alumni banquet draws the alumni together to renew old acquaintances and make new ones.

The alumni directory is published every two years in the Hixonian.

A N D ADVERTISING

The Hixonian Advertising Staff begins early to sell ads to the businessmen of Hicksville and the surrounding area. This source of income aids the staff in meeting expenses.

The merchants have supported this book—will you support them?

The 1962 Hixonian Staff would like to thank all the businessmen who so generously placed an ad in our yearbook.

We realize that you have helped us considerably in publishing the Hixonian.

THE FINAL WORD

Another year is drawing to a close and the book is finished. But for the seniors, this is not the end, but a new beginning. The biggest bridge of all stands before us — the bridge of life. Ahead are jobs, marriage, or plans for higher learning.

Senior year always goes fast, and for those of us who worked on the yearbook, the time really flew. Of course, there were always so many frustrating irritations — copy never written, lost pictures, pictures never taken, lost copy, and lost tempers. We would never have been able to produce this book without our hard-working staff and our own Mrs. Mary Culler, whose advice and suggestions stimulated all of us to greater efforts.

As you come to the end of your yearbook, we hope you will derive as many pleasant memories from each page as we had in producing it for you.
